Printing

We offer several levels of printing

Econo Printing

These prints are almost half the cost of our Lab Prints. You do all the work and submit files that conform to our pre-flight instructions and we simply run them through our printers. Photo grade output on Glossy or Luster photo papers. All files that do not conform to our pre-flight instructions will be billed at normal "Lab Quality" pricing

20x24	30.00

Lab Quality Printing

These prints take the place of a traditional B&W R.C. or type "C" print from the darkroom and come in glossy and luster RC. They are worked on but not re-worked on. They include some zonal changes and spotting and do not include a test proof. 60" wide up to 100' long. Add 20% for mat papers

Exhibition Printing

These prints can be any combination of ink sets and substrates that are available and are printed at any resolution needed depending on substrate. These prints are worked-on in the true sense of a traditional custom lab doing exhibition printing. They include full zonal changes, color balancing, spotting, and are resolved to the photographers personal vision. Pricing is based on "Lab Quality" printing prices plus $125.00 per hour production time and proofing charges.

The artist is encouraged to come to the studio for a final printing session to make the final adjustments to the print.

Digital Archival Fiber Base Prints

These prints are the equivalent to traditional fiber base silver gelatin prints from the darkroom. They look exactly like a glossy fiber dried mat or true mat surface print and are acid free PH neutral with a longevity rating from Wilhelm Research of over 70 years. We have several choices in both surfaces.

Vintage Paper Series

In our Vintage Paper Series we have replicated discontinued papers from the past. Papers that we wished never left us now can be recreated for you on archival digital fiber paper. Our Standard Vintage Fiber has that classic look of a glossy fiber dried mat matching a silver gelatin tone exactly. We have several papers to choose from.

Art Reproduction

Art reproduction is the most critical of all levels of printing. It is the most demanding and time consuming process we have due to it's need for exactness. When reproducing works of art there are three stages. First, there's the digitizing of the original in either digital or film. Second, there is the manipulation of the file for tonal correction and color matching, and if needed retouching of the file. Thirdly, there is the proofing and final printing.

1) Original Flat Art Photographic Services

- Black & white or Color originals up to 4x6 feet
- 35mm Chromes, 2 densities, 1 for slide sheet viewing, 1 for projection
- 4x5 Copy Negs or Chromes
- High Resolution Digital Files
- Virtual Drum Scanning
- Lighting: Direct, Diffused, and Polarized

Film Copy Work

35mm Copy Negative (5 min.)	$25.00
4x5 Copy Negative	$150.00

Digital Copy Work (scan/shoot)

Single Shot	$25.00
Quadrants	$25.00 per Quad
Stitching	$10.00 per stitch
* Single shot file, 5x7 proof, JPG	$40.00

2) Proofing and color correction

Proofing

Size	Price
5x7	$15.00
8x10	$20.00

Fine Art Printing

There are so many papers and substrates to print on these days from traditional papers to metals that the creative applications seem almost endless. Prices are dependent on the material we are printing on.

Spraying

Spraying has become an important issue in fine art printing. The questions being brought up these days with etchers and watercolorist about spraying is not the same issue for Giclee' printing because the Fine Art paper they use is not constructed in the same manner as ink-jet archival aqueous papers. Where in the ink-jet papers are 100% acid free and the pigmented ink is 100% archival, the ink-jet coating is highly effected by Ozone. Ozone is a gas emitted by electrical equipment. Its effect on the poly coating of the paper is that it turns the print brown. The same color as if a print was printed on a acid content paper. We find that if an art print is not going to be framed it should be sprayed with our 100% archival solvent spray to protect it from damage by the Ozone, protect the inks from marring, and add UV protection at the same time. It is invisible and does not effect the look of the print at all. Wilhelm Riecht of the Willhelm Institute who is the leading authority on conservation of photographic material says our spray adds 50 years to the life of the print. We believe all editions should be sprayed. If you would like to see how your prints can be effected by Ozone, just give us a call and come over to see for yourself.

Framing

Here at I.Wunder Photographics we have a full complete framing department for all your custom framing needs. All materials used are archival and adhere to standard conservation techniques. Our concept to framing is that the frame job should not take the focus away from the piece. Therefore our basic frame collection consists of silvers, blacks, whites, grays, some gold, and browns for the sepia tones in woods and metals. Prices are dependent on size and frame choices.

Custom Frame Kits

For our clients that like to do it themselves, we have custom framing kits that includes the frame of your choice, glass or Plexiglas, 4-ply rag mat, and all necessary hardware for you to assemble yourselves. Prices vary due to size and framing choices.

Installation

Ready made frames are a great savings if your piece conforms to a standard size that ready-mades' are available in. We do not carry ready-made frames but can assist you if that would be a better choice for you. We can cut a custom mat to fit if that is needed and can professionally install the piece for you if you would like. Installation prices are listed below.
